

Happy Kids at home!

Board game

For this activity you will need:

Simple board games that involve rolling the dice.

Games such as Ludo are perfect to help your child count. These games are great because not only do children need to count the number of spots on the dice, but they also move their counter accordingly.

Step 1

Expect that your child will need plenty of time at first and may require help to manage these type of games.

Step 2

Practice makes perfect and your child will soon learn to win.

Next steps

Try new board games like snakes and ladders as your child gets more confident.

Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS)

The EYFS sets standards for the learning, development and care of children from birth to 5 years old. It promotes teaching and learning through play to make sure all children have the skills they need for future life. There are 3 Prime Areas of Learning and 5 Specific Areas. We follow this in Preschool Nursery and you can do activities at home to help your child's learning. This activity will cover many areas of the EYFS but are planned specifically to cover these areas below.

Specific Area

Mathematics

This games help children to count carefully and see at first hand that some numbers are larger than others. Most board games involve a little strategy, which can help develop children's logic and problem solving.

Prime Area

Personal, Social and Emotional Development

By playing this type of game your child can learn to take turns and develop their social skills.
